Philadelphia, aptly dubbed the City of Brotherly Love, caters to lovers looking to re-energize their relationships at cultural sites, romantic eateries, outdoor attractions and other swoon-worthy spots. Couples can make it a weekend-or longer-by booking special hotel packages, some of which are romantically themed, on visitphilly com/hotels. One popular deal, the Philly Overnight® Hotel Package comes with two nights and free hotel parking.

Here are a few suggestions for embracing the region's romantic side:

Cozy Cuisine:

- . Tucked in a corner brownstone a few blocks off Rittenhouse Square, Friday Saturday Sunday has long been a local favorite of amorous couples craving traditional American cuisine and great reasonably priced wines. 261 S. 21st Street, (215) 546-4232, frisatsun.com
- · After a day in the Chester County countryside, foodies favor the Birchrunville Store Café, a bring-your-own-bottle (BYOB) spot known for its contemporary French-Italian cuisine, located inside a former general store with a lovely front porch. The drive to this tucked-away spot will put anyone in the mood, and the candlelit dining room encourages whispery tête-à-têtes. 1403 Hollow Road, Birchrunville, (610) 827-9002, birchrunvillestorecafe.com
- · Pianists and opera singers serenade sweethearts every Saturday and Sunday night at "Singing Chef' Frank Borda's High Note Cafe, where sumptuous sounds and passed-down Italian recipes make this South Philly mainstay so special. 1549 S. 13th Street, (215) 755-8903, highnotecafe.com
- · What was once an 18th-century granary is now a cozy Italian restaurant, with a sought-after secluded dining spot nestled within its wine cellar. With seating for two, dinner by candlelight and
